The college has organized one day Communication Skills Program for the students of B.com final year and M.com 2nd year. Communication involves conveying and receiving information through a range of verbal and non-verbal means. When you deliver a presentation at work, brainstorm with your coworkers, address a problem with your boss, or confirm details with a client about their project, you use communication skills. They're an essential part of developing positive professional relationships.

There are 4 types of communication

1. Written Communication
2. Verbal Communication
3. Non-Verbal Communication
4. Audio-Visual Communication

We use our communication skills in a variety of ways in our professional lives: in conversations, emails and written documents, presentations, and visuals like graphics or charts. Communication skills are essential, especially in the workplace, because they can:

- Improve your relationships with your manager and coworkers
- Build connections with customers
- Help you convey your point quickly and clearly
- Enhance your professional image
- Encourage active listening and open-mindedness.
- Help advance your career

The program was benefited by more than 100 students for their better carrier and their future.
